

What do you call a paleontologist who sleeps all the time?

Lazy bones!

Color a Dig Site

Finding fossils is hard work. Paleontologists sometimes use color to distinguish fossils from the dirt surrounding them. Use your crayons or colored pencils to color in this dig site so that paleontologists can find these fossils.

